

Centennial Library

Part of Canada's centennial celebrations included the construction of the St. Albert Centennial Library right next to Town Hall, which officially opened on June 24, 1967. Both the Old Town Hall and Centennial Library remained in use until the opening of St. Albert Place in 1984.